

Business Intelligence Internship

HAPPYCAR enables the customer to find the perfect rental car by comparing all well-known car rental companies for all destinations worldwide. No matter whether holiday or business trip: We will find the one car that perfectly matches your needs.

With your role as Business Intelligence Intern, you will support our BI Team in Berlin. You help our teams to develop, implement and maintain sustainable, high-performance, growth-ready data-processing and data integration systems.

You get the chance to bring in your own innovative ideas and contribute to the success of HAPPYCAR, we are a young, goal-oriented team, which places great emphasis on flat hierarchies

Your desire is to push things forward and take responsibility in a fast-growing company? You have a passion for online-marketing?

Become a team member in our vibrant company now and support us in growing business even further!

Could we raise your interest?
Please send your CV, references, a meaningful cover letter with further information about you, your career and your availability in English by email to jobs@happycar.de

Who we are looking for

- You have a great affinity for numbers and available on a very high analytical mindset
- Very good knowledge of Microsoft Excel
- Demonstrated strong written, verbal communication, and presentation skills in English
- Demonstrated strong organizational and time management skills, with attention to detail
- Demonstrated aptitude and willingness to learn new analytical methods, software applications, and tools

Your Tasks

- Planning, structuring of strategic and operating projects
- Development of ideas concerning marketing and coverage (offline and online)
- Analysis concerning competition and segments and thus developing options for action
- Preparation of graphics and presentations as well as document management and checking offerings concerning formal aspects
- Market research and analysis of existing brands as well as screenings of industries and deep researching topics
- Systematic research, analysis and post-processing related to decision-making process and strategic option for action

What we offer

- A multidisciplinary, highly motivated team in an innovative environment
- Great opportunities for personal development and development
- A flat hierarchy and a collegial and helpful work environment
- A young, dynamic and international team
- Regular Teamevents
- Fruit and free drinks